DAY 1: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3

8:30a-12:30p – Effectively Treating Pain the Quick and Easy Way
Guoen Wang, L.Ac.

Pain is something you see very frequently in your practice. While there are many causes for pain in Chinese medicine, there are only three common types most encountered in clinic. In this seminar, you will learn the key strategies for the diagnosis and treatment of pain disorders, including sports injury, neck pain, lower back pain, sciatica pain, frozen shoulder pain, knee pain, etc.

1:30-5:30p – Reversing Type 2 Diabetes with TCM
Jimmy Yen, L.Ac.

Currently in western medicine there is no cure for type 2 diabetes; however, all forms of medicine agree that diet and exercise can help people manage their diabetes. In TCM we believe that no healthcare practitioner can cure diseases for their patients, because it's the patients body that cures disease. Our role as TCM practitioners is to help facilitate the healing in our patient's body, help them restore their organ function so that the patient's body can reverse diabetes by itself.

Using the combination of acupuncture, Chinese herbal medicine, supplements and dietary modifications, TCM is able to help stimulate our patient's bodies to self-heal again. Come and join, Jimmy Yen, L. Ac. as he reveals his secrets on achieving a 90% success rate with treating type 2 diabetes with TCM.

5:30-6:30p – Acupuncture Ethics Update
Leslie Myers, J.D., L.Ac.

We will review ethical and legal requirements as they relate to an Oriental Medical practice. We will also discuss areas of practice where problems may arise via case studies and learn how best to resolve through interactive discussion.

This day's courses have been granted a total of 9 hrs of CAE credit (2/general acupuncture, 4/herbal, 1/biomedical, 1/ethics, 1/safety) by the Texas State Board of Acupuncture Examiners. TAAOM, Approved Provider # CAE00004.

Yuxin He, M.D.(China), Ph.D, Lic Ac

This seminar will take an in-depth exploration of TCM treatment of oncologic disorders and cancer patients undergoing chemo-radiation and other conventional treatments; effective treatment strategies, and palliative care. We will also look at pain from malignant neoplastic growth and from biomedical treatment therapies such as surgery, radiation, and pharmaceutical agents, as well as the psycho-social impact of cancer diagnoses and the treatments on patients and their families. Care and management of pain and mental and emotional health, the mechanisms of various treatment therapies, effective collaborations, and the emerging theories and knowledge about TCM treatments from current scientific research will be critically evaluated.

Jimmy Yen, L.Ac.

He currently owns 2 acupuncture clinics in the Austin Metro Area.

The secret to his success is having systems. He will share some of the systems he created to help automate processes so that his clinic runs on auto-pilot. Such systems as the front desk systems, new patient systems, patient referral systems, hiring systems, and etc. Learn how to be more effective with your treatments and more efficient with your time and money. Jimmy will help you develop your own systems that you can instantly implement.

If you ever want to take a vacation and not have to worry about your clinic revenue dipping while you're on vacation, you don't want to miss this class.
